

HON. ALF TAYLOR OUT FOR GOVERNOR

BRISTOL, Tenn., May 11. (Sp.)—Hon. A. A. Taylor, familiarly known in Upper East Tennessee as the "Little Giant of Carter," has just announced that he will enter the race to secure the nomination for governor at the hands of the Republican voters in the state. Mr. Taylor stated that he was reluctant to enter the race, but he declared that from Carter to Shelby county, from Democrats and Republicans, he had been getting letters in every mail urging him to enter the race.

Mr. Taylor stated in an interview given out that it was his intention to make a dignified race, free from personalities or personalities, and to win by the merits of his own record. Continuing he said: "I shall make a stand upon the issue solely and for support of all the people upon them."

The announcement that he intends to enter the Republican gubernatorial race brings to the minds of many the battles waged between him and the distinguished brother, the late Senator Robert L. Taylor, both of whom appeared on the platform in joint debate.

SET ASIDE WILL OF FORMER CONGRESSMAN

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., May 11. (Sp.)—The will of the late Col. Lowmes H. Davis, who died several months ago while visiting at his old home in Missouri, which he represented in congress years ago, has been set aside by Probate Judge Thomas W. Jones, on petition of Mrs. Paul Davis, guardian of her son, Paul Davis, Jr., who claimed that the mind of the testator had been impaired by illness at the time the will was made; that he was incapable of making a will.

Col. Davis left a will made in July, 1919, leaving his estate of about $150,000 to his four grandchildren. Paul Davis, Jr., son of a deceased son, and three daughters of another son, Clarendon Davis. He provided a small annuity for his widow and bequeathed a very small sum of money to his living son. Notice to Delinquent Taxpayers

1919 State and County Taxes Became Delinquent on March 1, 1920

Under the law, penalties for the month of March were six and one-half per cent on the original amount of the taxes past due.

On April first the penalties increased to eight per cent and on May first they became nine and one-half per cent, as provided by law.

During the month, about May 17th, all property upon which 1919 state and county taxes have not been paid will be advertised for sale and on June first all such property upon which taxes have not been paid will be sold to the state, in accordance with the law. This will entail an additional expense of one dollar on each tax bill, to cover the cost of such advertising.

Taxpayers are hereby notified of these increasing penalties, the application of which is made mandatory by the tax laws of the State of Tennessee.
